DEEP POINT >> MURRAY BRIDGE

TRAINER: T&C MCEVOY // JOCKEY: BAREND VORSTER

MURRAY BRIDGE // RACE 1 // 1000 METRES FESTIVAL HIRE 2YO MAIDEN PLATE MAIDEN // PRIZEMONEY: $21,800 TRACK RATED: GOOD 4

Race Overview

Deep Point makes his return to race day after showing plenty of promise at jump outs again. In a field with limited exposure, he is one of three gallopers that have had race day experience. With the one scratching so far, he will jump from barrier 9 with Barend Vorster in the saddle. All are local gallopers, other than Yakutsk who travels across from Victoria.

A CLOSER LOOK AT SOME KEY COMPETITORS

2. DEEP POINT

A colt by Deep Field trained by Tony & Calvin McEvoy. He was well supported on debut in a Group 3 race at Flemington and looks an incredibly strong chance against this field. Barend Vorster takes the ride and he deserves to be the favourite for this event. Expect him to be sitting outside of the leader.

5. SHADOW OF FOOLS

A gelding by Sir Prancealot. Cost $100,000 and with two runners in the race, you would suggest he is the pick of the pair for trainers Leon Macdonald and Andrew Gluyas. Jessica Eaton will take the ride.

6. THE NAZARENE

A two-year-old gelding by Winning Rupert. Tried back on April 7 and put in a nice bit of work. Stable is astute and money must be respected if it comes. He will jump from barrier 2 with Kayle Crowther in the saddle.

8. GREY RIVER

A filly by Al Maher. She trialed nicely at Strathalbyn on April 21 when she was able to win her trial. Jake Toeroek will take the ride for trainer Jon O'Connor.

10. YAKUTSK

This two-year-old filly by Capitalist has had two starts and three recent jump outs. Her debut at Flemington was full of merit and she can show plenty of early speed. She will lead this event and it's just a matter of whether she can tough it out for the full 1000m.

BETTING PLAY (Deep Point)

I have Deep Point winning the race. I would personally like $2.50 to have a bet

BETTING PLAY (Overall)

With so many unknowns, my only bet would be Deep Point to win. I would like $2.50, but you choose the price that you're happy with.
